

"Where every woman's voice is heard"

Beth Judea Sisterhood presents: WHAT'S JEWISH ABOUT GENETICS?

Wednesday, April 24, 2019
8:00 p.m.

Free and Open to the Community

Have you ever wondered what's in your genes? Families with Jewish ancestry can be at increased risk for certain genetic conditions. Learn about what you can do to understand your risk and keep your family healthy. From BRCA to Tay-Sachs and beyond, this is an opportunity to hear the details from Becca Bakal, health educator at the Norton & Elaine Sarnoff Center for Jewish Genetics. The Sarnoff Center is an educational resource on recessive genetic disorders and hereditary cancers more common in people of Jewish heritage.

There is no cost for the event, but please RSVP to cbjsisterhoodmail@gmail.com

Please contact Lisa Neiman at lneiman@bethjudea.org or 847-634-0777 if you need any special accommodations, including transportation, to participate in our program.