

AJEC presents Lunch and Learn

Reimagining the Women of the Bible Powerful Female Voices and the Story Underneath the Story

featuring

Ali Drumm

Ali Drumm has been in Jewish experiential education for 17 years, 15 of which have been working in various youth, family, and adult educational roles with North Suburban Synagogue Beth El. Her passion for Jewish literacy and relevance ignites her work in the congregation and the larger Jewish community.

In brief brilliant fashion we see female characters, with a consciousness that seems contemporary, and an alternative dialogue that explains the motivations and actions these women took during Biblical times. We continue to find the female voice in our tradition, and perhaps get an understanding of the power women have had even when it seemed they should be powerless.
