

High Holiday Review Monday, October 16th at 8:00 pm

Dear Fellow Congregants, Clergy and Staff,

The High Holiday season will come to a close on Friday with the observance of Simchat Torah. We complete the reading of the Torah and begin the reading anew. While the cycle repeats itself as it has done for millennia, each of us greets this new beginning with another year of knowledge, hopes, dreams and realities.

I ask that each of you look back on these past High Holiday observances and share your experiences. It is with the help of these comments that we are able to plan next year's observances. There are aspects that you found meaningful and areas that we might improve upon.

If you are not able to attend the Review (that follows minyan), please email your comments to me at:

Whether you attend the Review or send in comments, your voice will be heard and considered. Thank you in advance for sharing your thoughts.
